

FAM Alternative Income (SGD)

30 May 2025

Strategy Description

FAM Alternative Income Fund 'FAI' seeks stable and recurring income that is independent of market performance by investing opportunistically in truly alternative investments, instead of traditional income assets such as equities and bonds. The strategy focuses on performance drivers that make sense and are backed by empirical research.

Commentary

After a slow start in Jan-Feb 2025 due to the California wildfires, income generation has improved, though returns remain below FAI's full potential as our preferred Insurance-Linked Securities markets (ILS) segment remained cautious ahead of hurricane season. We expect prices - and overall returns - to pick up in 2H 2025, offering FAI investors good income that is uncorrelated, especially in the context of the current uncertainty facing traditional markets.

One popular measure of a fund is its 3-year performance; some investors use that primarily to decide whether to invest. The chart shows the rolling 3-year performance of a representative ILS strategy. It shows that the 3-year return hit a low in Q4 2022, and it would not be a surprise for anyone to exit ILS then, based on performance concerns. Counterintuitively, that was the best time to invest. That was what FAI did, and which allowed us to compound close to 10% p.a. since 2022.

This is not by accident; we had been tracking ILS for years before catching the window of opportunity in Q4 2022. Being FAI investors ourselves, we have the common mission to deliver high income that is not dependent on traditional markets to our investors - in the past 12 months, FAI has delivered attractive returns of 6.35%.

While many discussions on FAI have centred on ILS, it is important to emphasize that it is not just about ILS: 1. We are actively managing our ILS exposures going into hurricane season, limiting risks here so investors will be less affected even if the worst natural catastrophes happen. 2. We expect to deploy into new Alternative income segments e.g. music royalties, in the coming months to complement our existing income streams. These actions will help us maintain good income generation in the months ahead to deliver 3% over money market, which continues to not be dependent on traditional markets.
